Forward-Looking Statements

- › This presentation contains certain “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements are based on management’s current expectations and are subject to risks, uncertainty and changes in circumstances, which may cause actual results, performance or achievements to differ materially from anticipated results, performance or achievements. All statements contained herein that are not clearly historical in nature are forward-looking and the words “anticipate,” “believe,” “expect,” “estimate,” “plan,” and similar expressions are generally intended to identify forward-looking statements.

- › The forward-looking statements in this presentation may include statements addressing the following subjects, among others: future financial condition and operating results and economic, business, competitive and/or regulatory factors affecting our business and the terms and effect of the anticipated spin-off of the Pharmaceuticals business from Covidien. Any of the following factors, among others, may cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements:
  - Our ability to receive procurement and production quotas granted by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration
  - Our ability to obtain and/or to timely transport molybdenum-99 to our technetium-99m generator production facilities
  - Customer concentration
  - Cost-containment efforts of our customers, purchasing groups, third-party providers and governmental organizations
  - Our ability to successfully develop or commercialize new products
  - Our ability to protect our intellectual property rights
  - Competition

Forward-Looking Statements (continued)

- Our ability to integrate acquisitions of technology, products and businesses
  - Product liability losses and other litigation liability
  - The reimbursement practices of a small number of large public and private issuers
  - Risks associated with complex reporting and payment obligation under healthcare rebate programs
  - Changes in laws and regulations
  - Risks associated with conducting business internationally
  - Fluctuations in currency exchange rates
  - Risks associated with material health, safety and environmental liabilities, litigation and violations
  - Information Technology infrastructure
  - Unanticipated developments that may prevent, delay, alter the terms of or otherwise negatively affect the planned spin-off.
- › These are examples of factors, among others, that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. In addition, there can be no assurances as to the timing of the contemplated spin-off, or whether it will be completed. We are under no obligation to (and expressly disclaim any such obligation to) update or alter our forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. More detailed information about these and other factors is set forth in Mallinckrodt's Registration Statement on Form 10, as amended, which has not yet been declared effective by the SEC, and Covidien's Annual Report on Form 10-K and other periodic filings with the SEC.
